The rains of Sainrday evening and yesterday afternoon were purely local. The rain came down in torronts, washing gutters out nicely and laying the dast, but rs far as can be learned the rain cloud was confined almost entirely to this city. It merely springled at Mortiu's Ferry and barely renched Bellaire. In neither or:e did the rain terve to cool the heated and sulry state of the wasther. Ladies intending to purchase Summer Goods, now is the oppor tunity to see a complete stock and at very low prices.

Nearly all were drucks and disorderlies, and a majority were old offenders.

THE AWYUL DUST. From early morn until the closing of the gates people were coming, some on foot, others in conveyances, and when the time came for clesing the gates the orwel numbered, in my ludgment, about twenty-five hundred people. "The Point" was crowded with the young folks, all eager to see who came, and poculty some were drawn there expecting to witness a scene when the gates were closed. In this they were disappointed, as the gates were closed without any interpolion. The dust is at least four inches deeper on a level than it was on Saturday morning, and at the entrance to the ground I very much question whe'her solid ground I very much question whether solid group can be found. The clouds of dust, adde to the intense heat, made it very unpleasan in the language of "Spiv," it was "about op paper collar bot."

How to GIT LEMONADE.

The holel and the lunch stands did a thriving business. I hear of no complaint as to the quality of the lunch, and I suppose the quantity was sufficient. The rules forbid the selling of lemonade, but the purchase of a cake, even a ginger cake, would insure the lemonade being thrown in. I heard of one man paying fifty cents for a small cake, and receiving a large melon thrown in.

Notwithstanding there was a big crowd the best of order prevailed throughout the entire camp, It was commonly remarked this syening that better order was never seen on this ground. Not a man was seen who here any visible indications of intexication. Having none of this character to look after, the time of the police was taken up in guarding the fences to see that roos cutsred the grounds only through the gates. YEATERDAY'S SERVICES.
The weather being excessively night, the cottagers were rather night, the cottagers were rather late in re-tiring, and as a matter of course were not very early risers this morning. The morn-ing meeting in the tabernacle at the begin-ning was rather slimity attended. As the meeting advanced however, the attendance increased, until at the close there was not stunding room in the teat. Revs. O. D. Battello had charge of the meeting, and it proved to be one of great interest. When the service began at 10:30 the audi-torium, capable of cation 1:500 was filled to its utmost capacity, walls many being unable to secure cears, stood in the siste. On Saturday Johnson made his appearance On Saturday Johnson made his appearance at the Covington, Ky., postellice, where he got to chatting with soms of the clerks, and called for some blank checks, it was supposed for the purpose of sending some money. He seemed to act somehow strangely and irresolutely, and this caught the attention of the Assistant Postmaster, with whom he freely engaged in converation. Postmaster Michie, had a few hours before, been reading the account of the missing Postmaster Johnson, and when he heard the stranger say that his name was Johnson, the coincidence struck him and he drew the attention of Capitain Thrasher to the fact. The latter thersupon put several inquiries to his visitor, the result of which was that the latter ack applied himself to be Postmaster Johnson. When the ice had been broken, he went on to confide his troubles to Capitain ter atknowledged nimiest to be resimater Johnson. When the ice had been broken, he went on to confide his troubles to Capsain Thresher, asying he did not know yet; whether the Government would prosecute him, and wking his opinion on the subject. Captain Thre her consoled him by expressing his belief that Uncle Sam would be forbearing enough to let him alone. At the same time he triephoned the police headquarters, and Officer Winger appearing in comble quick time took the erring postmater into custody, subsequently turning him over to Daputy U. 8. Matshal Parker.

The culprit was brought before Justica W. P. McLaughlin, who was pussiding in the United Shates Orient Court. He said that his directpancies as Postmaster were small in amount, that he was behind $11 on the June quarter, and $1.80 on the previous quarter.

Salurday afternoon, Messrs, Shirk, Stewart Rifle Club, met a team of five from the Pittsburgh Rift , Club, at Little Washington and shot a match with it at 2,000 yards, of hand, each man firing twesty shots. As usual, the Wheeling Rifly Cinb was victorious, winning by 22 points. The day was a bad one for high scores it being so intensely hot and the wind being chapscable. The heat caused a mirage on a small scale, and as the targets were in the shadow this increased the trouble. The Wheeling club being the winners had the choice of ground for the next match, and it will take place here in a few weeks, probably at Seibert's Garden. The return match promise to be more helly contained that the shoot of the Wheeling team will take part in the shooting festival at Seibert's on the 25th instant, at which some valuable prizes are offered. hand, each man firing twenty shots. Brief Notes on Current Events of Mino

FREE concert this evening at Capitol

THE foundation of the new personage being creeted by the Church of the Immac-niate Conception, and intended as the resi-dence of the pastor, Rev. Father Schliecher, is completed. Saturday, Muldoon, the mar-ble cutter, presented the church with an ele-mant marble corner stone, bearing the date July, 1881.

While the crowd from this city in attendance at the boat race at Bellairs were crossing the river at Rebson's Ferry on their return, an siturcation took piece on the boat between Henry Kreez, jr., and a man named Risshook, one of Reymann's however drivers, during which the latter struck Krees on the head with some blunt instrument and laid the scale popen for an inch and a half. Dr. Ackerman dressed the cut, which is not seri-

The services Saturday were of course slimity attended, save the night pervice, which was, more largely attended than any service of the week. The trains brought from Wheeling and other points many persons who intefided to remain over night. These with the villagors made an immense crowd. The termons were all of a high order and the cause of the Master did not suffer. Altay services followed each discourse. The first shout occurred at the close of the 3 r. M. service. A lady who remarked that she had service. her daughters, Misses Emms and Lizzie, is became Juli to the brim and running over the guest of her son, Lou Neidhart, at the with the spirit, and the result was a shout.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS

The Democratic primaries for the namina ion of district officers were held Saturda tiernoon. In a few of the districts there was warm compatition for some of the nomi nations, but as a general thing the election sed off quietly, and a small vote was poll ed in the aggregate. The result was the nom-ination of the following gentlemen in the districts named:

defranded him of the stakes. Probably Hell has rowed his lest, race. Certainly he will never find a Wheeling carman chump enough to row him over his home course and with a Bellaire referse.

The race was for three miles, with a turn, for a purse of 4600. The beiting during the weak had been even, but Saturdey aftermoon small odds were given on Felsing, apparently owing to the fact tax the Wheeling folks had the most luce, and had come down to Bellaire intent on terporting their old-line.
